

Pre-approval

Pre-approval through a bank or mortgage broker is important not only so that you know in what price range to start looking for homes but will also save you valuable time looking at homes that may not meet your desired price point. As an experienced realtor I will help you save money and time, assist in finding the best interest rate while ensuring that your home buying experience is a positive one.